You own a general store near the main entrance to the park, but business is declining. More people now drive to large new supermarkets, whilst fewer people visit the park.

Not all the ground floor of your large premises is used now.

You think you might make more money by selling snacks and takeaway hot food, or perhaps opening a café in the unused space.

Before the meeting, think about:

- How a renovated park will help your business?
- What developments in the park could impact on your business?
- How your plans might affect the park?
